

Some Unseen Power

Contributed by Trevor Roberts
Sunday, 27 July 2008
Last Updated Sunday, 27 July 2008

Some unseen power (The diary of a ghost hunter) by Philip Paul

Philip Paul describes the events which set him exploring the realms of the unknown. The path takes him amid the strange happenings of war-torn Britain; to his extensive excavations at the site of the legendary Borley Rectory.