

Haunted Homes: True Stories of Paranormal Investigations

Contributed by Trevor Roberts
Tuesday, 19 August 2008

Haunted Homes: True Stories of Paranormal Investigations

Tied into the first ever terrestrial TV series on psychic phenomena, Mia Dolan, author of the best-selling book "The Gift", presents a compelling diary of her visits to haunted homes around the UK, exorcising spirits. Mia is the most famous female psychic in the UK and also recounts other exciting ghost-busting stories from her fascinating career. Mia Dolan, the best-known female psychic in the UK and best-selling author of "The Gift", now stars in her own TV show on ITV, "Haunted Homes" - the first ever ghost-busting series to be shown on terrestrial television. Here, Mia presents a diary of her ghost-busting exploits in family homes around the UK. Mia visits the homes of ordinary people who have been troubled by hauntings, communicates with the spirit, finds out who they are and why they are present in the house and finally carries out an exorcism. The book will feature each of Mia's investigations, the conversations and debates with her sceptic co-presenter, the full drama of each haunting, how Mia deals with the families' emotions running high throughout the haunting, and her revelations about the spirit culprit.